ISSUES PRESENTED

NOW COMES ATUL C. SHAH, MD, creditor/Appellant, In Pro Se, and hereby submits the following issues presented in his Appeal:

1. Whether the trial court erred by failing to grant Dr. Shah procedural and substantive due process at the Hearing on his adversary proceeding, in making its decisions without an evidentiary hearing, and making its Decision dependent upon whether Dr. Shah would Appeal his decision or not.

Dr. Shah would answer "Yes"
The GUC Trust would answer "No"
The Trial Court would answer "No"

2. Whether the Trial Court erred by failing to accept or even consider Dr. Shah's Objections to entry of Proposed and dismissed the Objections outright without reason.

Dr. Shah would answer "Yes"
The GUC Trust would answer "No"
The Trial Court would answer "No"

3. Whether the trial court erred by not ensuring that Dr. Shah's claim would be treated in a manner consistent with all other claims of secured creditors in this case.

Dr. Shah would answer "Yes"
The GUC Trust would answer "No"
The Trial Court would answer "No"

4. Whether the written decision of the court, done only after Dr. Shah informed the court as directed that he would appeal; this unfairly prejudiced Dr. Shah and his appellate rights.

Dr. Shah would answer "Yes"
The GUC Trust would answer "No"
The Trial Court would answer "No"

5. Whether the Trial Court's relationship with attorneys from the GUC Trust in this matter gave the appearance of bias towards those attorneys to Dr. Shah's prejudice. Specifically, whether the Court delegated its role and duties inappropriately to counsel for the GUC trust.

Dr. Shah would answer "Yes"
The GUC Trust would answer "No"
The Trial Court would answer "No"
